Reaching the World through Iceland

Have you seen the history video of the work in Iceland <https://youtu.be/Z1093FKCKcE>? If you have invested in our ministry over the years, you are part of this history! Our upcoming summer outreach programs, as well as summer projects, are right around the corner. We have a team coming to help with projects in June. Thank you for praying for us as we seek to raise $10,000 to fund several projects and outreach programs this summer. We will not be doing our annual summer camp this year. Instead, we will do other types of outreach to the youth and families. Additionally, summer projects include applying another coat of paint to the roof, replacing three exterior doors at the church, and more. Meeting this financial goal will also enable us to print literature that teams will distribute to homes in our communities. Photo right: My son Clayton loves teaching the youth in our church. I am very thankful to have him faithfully serving and helping in the work here. Photo below: In March, one of our teaching themes was "Being seen in the dark." In Iceland, it is hazardous for children to walk in the darkness, which lasts over twenty hours each day in our winter months. We received donated reflectors from local businesses and individuals to educate children about being visible in the dark. This easily illustrated the need for us to be a light in darkness and understand the importance of the Light of God and His Word. This is one example of the many ways we are exploring to reach the community with the Gospel of Christ Jesus, our Lord. Photo right: An adult Icelander has been attending Icelandic service for over a year. She professed Christ as her Savior and asked me if she could be baptized. It was my joy to allow our fellow missionary, Nathan Sears, to have the honor of baptizing her on March 2nd. Additionally, we have three other adults who have professed faith in Christ and one older teenager who will be baptized in the coming weeks. I will have the joy of baptizing one of them on Easter Sunday; she is a mother and grandmother of bus kids. Photo left: My son, William, loves to teach first and second graders, in addition to serving in various capacities. I am deeply grateful for his labor in the Lord in Iceland. He and his wife are missionaries with BMFP and are trying to raise support from afar. They will be in the States from August to October on deputation. Although many churches require missionaries to visit in person, thank you for praying for them as they seek to raise their support from afar. They have raised over 30% of their needed support thus far. The goal would be for them not to have to leave for extended periods to raise most of their support. First Grandchild: Our daughter, Rosa, has given us our first grandchild, Toby Clayton Seth Siekbert. He was born on March 11th. We are blessed to spend a few weeks with them, helping them with their first baby. What an honor this is! I know that we are spending time away from Iceland to do this, and I appreciate your understanding of this absence from Iceland to be a blessing to our child and grandchild. Thank you for your prayers for these new parents and the raising of their child in the faith of Jesus.
